

Takahiro Nakajima (b. in 1964, nakajima@ioc.u-tokyo.ac.jp) is associate professor of Chinese philosophy at the University of Tokyo. After graduating from the department of Chinese Philosophy, the University of Tokyo in 1991, he was assistant professor at the University of Tokyo (1991-1996), lecturer and associate professor in Ritsumeikan University (1996-2000), associate professor in the department of Interdisciplinary Cultural Studies, the University of Tokyo (2000-2012), and now is associate professor of Chinese philosophy in Institute for Advanced Studies on Asia, the University of Tokyo. Since 2001, he has been a member of UTCP (University of Tokyo Center for Philosophy). His publications include The Philosophy of Evil: Imaginations in Chinese Philosophy (Tokyo: Chikuma Shobo, 2012), Practicing Philosophy between China and Japan (Tokyo: UTCP, 2011), Praxis of Co-existence: State and Religion (Tokyo: University of Tokyo Press, 2011), Deconstruction and Reconstruction: The Possibilities of Chinese Philosophy (Tokyo: UTCP 2010), The Zhuangzi, (Iwanami Shoten, 2009), Philosophy in Humanities (Tokyo: Iwanami Shoten, 2009), The Reverberation of Chinese Philosophy: Language and Politics, (Tokyo: University of Tokyo Press, 2007), The Chinese Turn in Philosophy (Tokyo: UTCP, 2007) . He got two prizes; the 1st of Nakamura Hajime Prize (1993): the 25th of Watsuji Tetsuro Cultural Prize (2013). He is now interested in the phenomenon on Confucian revival in East Asia.

Georg Toepfer, Dr. phil. Dipl. biol., is head of the department “Knowledge of Life” at the Centre for Literary and Cultural Research in Berlin. He studied biology and philosophy in Würzburg, Buenos Aires and Hamburg. He is interested in the history and philosophy of biology, with a special focus on conceptual history. From 2005 to 2011 he was at the Collaborative Research Centre “Transformations of Antiquity” at the Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin. Main publications: Zweckbegriff und Organismus. Über die teleologische Beurteilung biologischer Systeme (2004), Philosophie der Biologie (ed. with Ulrich Krohs, 2005), Historisches Wörterbuch der Biologie. Geschichte und Theorie der biologischen Grundbegriffe (3 vols., 2011), Evolution (2013).

Guosheng Wu, Professor and Director of Center for History and Philosophy of Science in Peking University, was born in September 5, 1964 at Hubei Province. He graduated from Department of Geophysics with Bachelor of Science, Peking University in 1983, and graduated from Department of Philosophy, Peking University with Master of Philosophy in 1986. In 1998, He got Doctor’s Degree of Western Philosophy from Department of Philosophy, Graduate School of Chinese Academy of Social Sciences. Since 1986, He has been focusing his work on two fields, The Intellectual History of Science, Phenomenology of Science and of Technology. He did some topical research on a series of concepts such as Nature, Universe, Time, Space, etc. He is now the Vice President of Chinese Society for the History of Science and Technology. Main Publications: Greek Spatial Concepts (1994), Ideas of Time (1996), Lectures on Philosophy of Technology (2009).